

Happy Monday! CHORUS IS BACK!!! (In case you didn't get the memo :-)

Hi, Everyone,

As you all no doubt know, Marta has made the tough decision to leave Chorus for health reasons (at least for the time being), so until we have a new WUW editor, I'll just be sending out a quick Monday morning email to let you all know of any updates.

We had a lively and enthusiastic group of around 20 at our rehearsal Saturday morning - BIG thanks to everyone who made it! Singing outside always seems to invite a few surprises. This time our first run through of Jukebox Saturday Night set off a couple of dogs across the street - only problem was, their howling (we assumed in support) wasn't quite in the same key :-) Hilarious!!

We also had another GUEST join us! WOOHOO!! Former member (from a couple of decades ago), Jennifer Vollbrecht, decided that now her kids are college age it might be a good time to brush off her beautiful baritone vocals. She checked out our web site, showed up with bells on, had a grand time and vowed to be back next week. How cool is that!

We've had two fabulous guests arrive on our doorstep in the last month. So if you can possibly make it to our Saturday rehearsals WE NEED YOU!!! Actually I NEED YOU! (Especially if you can blow a pitch pipe!) C'mon - it's only an hour and we have great chance right now to work on rebuilding not just our sound but our membership ranks too.

We're outside in the shade and standing at a safe distance from each other. Of course, if you have work, family or other commitments I completely understand - but if you're lounging at home drinking coffee, I can pretty much guarantee we're having more fun. Chorus singing is a team sport - so come out and support YOUR team!

Okay, I'll get down from my soap box now. You know I love you all!
See you tonight on Zoom and/or Saturday in person!

Cx

PS: My work is (thankfully) going nuts again now. So if you email, text or call me, I may not be able to respond right away. Thanks for understanding.
